THRONGS CHEER DWINDLED RANKS OF WAR VETERANS

Less than Thousand March This Year in Memorial Day Parade Along Drive.

7,500, ALL TOLD, IN LINE

Young Soldiers and Sailors and Girls and Boys Join the Procession-Colonel Goulden Makes Address.

The thinning ranks of the Grand Army of the Republic turned out again yesterday for the annual Memorial Day march from 72d street to the Soldiers and Sailors' Monument in Riverside So far as numbers went, the Grand Army mustered only a tenth of the total in the parade, but the thousands of younger soldiers and sailors. regulars and volunteers who preceded them and the thousands of still younger Spanish War veterans, boy soldiers and semi-military organization members who came after them furnished nothing more than the setting for the men of the Civil War. Seven thousand five hundred marchers in the parade, but only seven hundred and fifty veterans of the Grand Army, tells the tale of the vanishing army of the 60's.

It was to see the veterans, though that some two hundred thousand people lined the route of the parade, for their applause, which had been mild handclapping for the regulars and the guards-
